THIS IS UNEVALUATED INFORMATION

1. The WOP battalion with headquarters at Paczkow (P51/H54) has guard posts (straznice) as follows:

a. Paczkow	Strength	40
b. Odmuchow	"	40
c. Slawmowica	"	16
d. Burgrabica	"	16
2. The WOP battalion with headquarters at Prudnik (P51/H93) has guard posts at Glucholazy and Jasien, each with a strength of 60.
3. Both of the aforementioned battalions are subordinate to the WOP brigade at Gliwice.
4. The C.O. of the Higher Officers' Infantry School at Rembertow, near Warsaw, is General Rusinski, a Russian who speaks Polish badly. There are 600 students at the school, which has a two-year course. Candidates are drawn from regiments. Lectures on theoretical subjects are given in the morning and afternoon, and physical training takes place early in the morning. Every day a different group is transported in cars for training with the local infantry regiment. Billets are in the Officers' Hotel, where the lectures are given.
5. The infantry regiment in Rembertow has a strength of 2,500, in addition to 3,000 reservists. During the summer months there are three 50X1-HUM periods of training for reservists.
6. Also located in Rembertow is a motorized howitzer regiment with 10 cm howitzers, a light-tank battalion with armored cars, and a practice firing range.
7. An infantry battalion is quartered in the Zakazow suburb of Mysa (P51/H75). Ammunition is stored in shelters on the outskirts of Zakazow.
8. An infantry regiment is in barracks beyond the park in the western part of Prudnik (Neustadt).
